IMAGE MATTERS

A skier in a dynamic, low-crouch pose is shown against a black background. The skier is wearing a colorful racing suit with orange, white, and purple accents, and a blue helmet with goggles. The skier's skis are long and narrow, with a blue and white design. The word "corbis" is written in white lowercase letters across the skier's midsection.

An aerial, top-down view of the Burj Khalifa skyscraper in Dubai, United Arab Emirates. The tower is the central focus, showing its distinctive tiered, spiraling structure. Surrounding the tower are other modern buildings, including the curved, glass-clad towers of the Dubai Mall. To the right, a large, artificial lake with a light blue-green hue is visible, featuring several circular islands and walkways. The overall scene depicts a dense, modern urban environment.
